bscWiki.com

Strategic Architecture

Linkages across scorecards that establish the theory of managing shared service units and decentralized business units within a single corporate entity. A strategic architecture describes organizational synergies by integrating the activities of otherwise segregated and independent units.